Subject: Invitation to attend the 14th International Symposium of the Protein Society of Thailand

Dear: Chancellor, Dean Head of Department Director, President, Secretary, Professor, Researcher, Student and Member of Protein Society of Thailand

It is my great pleasure to invite you to attend this 14th International Symposium of the Protein Society of Thailand (PST). Since its foundation in 2006, PST has arranged annual symposia for protein researchers and students to exchange their knowledge, experience and expertise with invited speakers, overseas scientists, senior researchers, and young scientists. All Abstracts and Proceedings submitted to this international symposium have been critically reviewed prior to oral or poster presentation, and publication. In 2019, it is a great opportunity for Department of Biochemistry, Faculty of Science, Kasetsart University becoming the co-host of the conference with the PST. We have arranged booths for the exhibition of equipment and supplies for protein research, as well as Luncheon Lectures. We are very grateful to the Thailand Research Fund, and Kasetsart University, as well as other organizations for their support. I hope that you will accept this invitation to attend this 14th PST Symposium, not only to learn about recent advances in protein research but also enjoy your activities with other protein scientists.

Yours sincerely

(Assistant Professor Sasimanas Unajak)
